

Girls in Tech Vancouver Executive Team Roles

Purpose

The purpose of this document is to provide a detailed description of key roles that are critical to run the Girls in Tech Vancouver operations team.

About Girls in Tech Vancouver

Girls in Tech Vancouver is a not-for-profit that supports and leverages its global Girls in Tech counterpart, and focuses locally on the retention of young student and professional women in the technical industry in Vancouver. Retention encompasses many facets including: well-being, integrated business and technical education, and in general, empowering women by fostering a supportive and encouraging technical culture.

Expectations from the Executive Team

The Executive Team is a self-run group with governance from the Co-Managing Directors and Advisors as needed. The Executive Team may decide on the frequency of meetings and the number of team members required to run the operations of Girls in Tech Vancouver. It is recommended that the team operates with 7 to 12 active executives.

Commitment Level

Volunteers on the Executive Team are expected to serve for a minimum of 1 year (12 months). The Executive Team shall be responsible for organizing at least one event per quarter, with the minimum target goal of 4 events per year. It is recommended that the Executive Team runs a general operations team meeting once a month and as needed for event planning. Organizing an event typically takes a minimum of 20 hours of total planning. Some events (such as a hackathon) may be more. Each role will have different expectations in terms of time commitment due to the varying responsibilities.

Code of Conduct

The Executive Team represents Girls in Tech Vancouver and we set the bar high for ethical conduct. We expect the following values and standards for operating the Girls in Tech Vancouver:

- 1) Respect - Be respectful to your team, to our members, and to our community.
- 2) Integrity - Act in the interest of our members and of Girls in Tech Vancouver. Be trustworthy and always do the right thing.

- 3) Safe Space - Be welcoming and create a safe space for those around you. Harassment, discrimination, or bullying will not be tolerated.

Exiting the Executive Team

If a member of the Executive Team shall step-down from their role before the 12-month duration, the individual is expected to be involved in finding their suitable replacement (with majority approval of the recommended replacement from the serving Executive Team), or an external recruitment process may be initiated to fill the gap. Current Executive Team members may also fill in the role as needed.

Key Roles

The key roles of the Executive Team are:

- Event Manager Lead (1 position)
- Sponsorship & Community Relations Lead (1 position)
- Member Experience Lead (1 position)
- Marketing Lead (1 position)
- Social Media Strategist (1 position)
- Web Development Lead (1 position)
- Event Coordinators (3-5 positions)

The Managing Directors may also be part of the Executive Team. The Managing Directors are the strategic leaders of Girls in Tech Vancouver and will have a critical influence on the operations of Girls in Tech Vancouver.
